DEDICATION

The key to survival at Masconomet? One must rise above mediocrity, push himself to achieve his goals, and learn from his mistakes. No one helps students from all grades to accomplish this goal more than Mr. Meinelt.

This is the first year in a long while that we've had the opportunity to thank Mr. Meinelt for all he has given to Masconomet; the reason: this is the first year that he has not been the advisor for the yearbook . . . so if you don't like it you can't blame him. But you can thank him for all the time he has spent on previous yearbooks.

It takes much dedication and effort to teach a subject that has no right or wrong answers, but Mr. Meinelt has mastered this task. He reaches out to everyone, no matter what their capability, to instill confidence and pride. He never allows students to give up simply because they think their drawing is complete; Mr. Meinelt pushes students until good drawings become great ones.

Both inside and outside of class, Mr. Meinelt is always ready to provide assistance. Whether it's an A.P. student scrambling to put together a portfolio, a drawing student struggling with a sketch of a skeleton, or simply an academic student seeking to escape the perils of A-wing study, Mr. Meinelt will always lend a helping hand. And his duty doesn't end in June, for Mr. Meinelt spends his summers teaching at Exeter Academy in New Hampshire, where he continues to help students explore the world of art.

We would like to thank Mr. Meinelt for contributing a new word to the English language; the verb is "to Meinelt", as in "Who's Meinelting me now?", his response to the demands for help by several students at the same time.

Mr. Meinelt, the Class of 1990 appreciates you for all of your help and support. We'll miss you in the years to come . . .

MEMORANDUM

John H. Demers III

July 4, 1971 - June 3, 1987

We would like to take this opportunity to say goodbye to a close friend, John Demers.

John was always a true friend to all of us, always laughing, and always cheering everyone up during times we needed to laugh. We will never forget his smiles and terrific sense of humor.

John will forever live on in our hearts and souls. Even though he has left us he will always be a part of our lives.

Sitting alone in the park
Our whole world has gone dark.
No more laughter will we see,
Now this pain is killing me.
Our whole world is now standing still,
And some of us don't have the will,
To live and laugh without you here,
And each and everyone has shed a tear.
Even though you're gone
Your memory will live on!
We love and miss you John!

INTRODUCTION

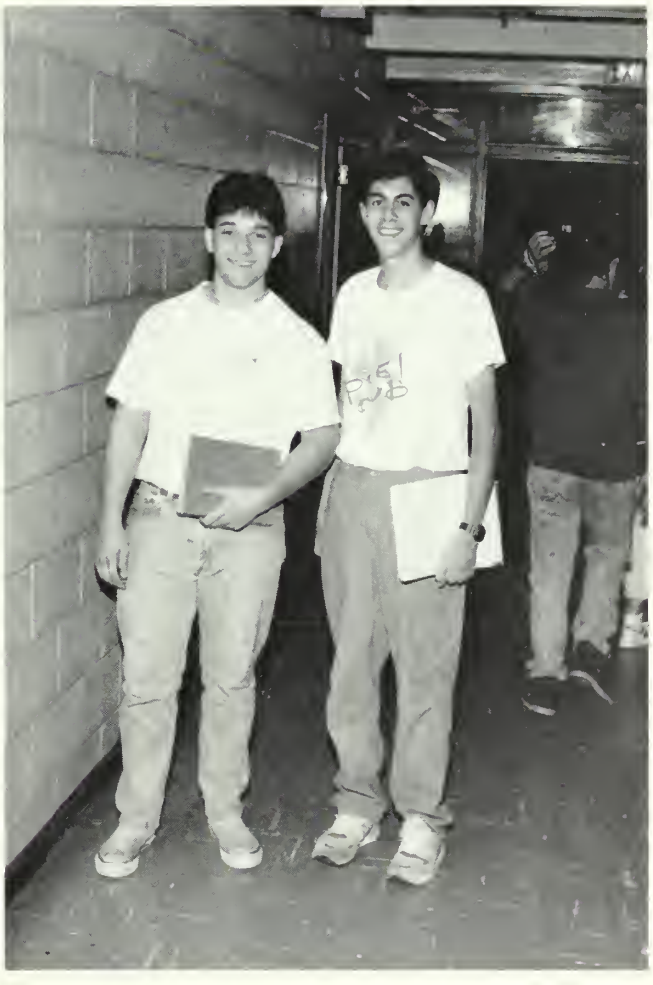
Survival at Masconomet is not a topic one takes lightly. Indeed, it is almost impossible to drift through Masco's halls for four years and emerge never having been confronted by at least one of the innumerable pit-falls of the school. And it all begins when those inexperienced and naive freshmen pass through the high school doors, embarking upon a journey which will hopefully end four years later. That is, if they survive.

Hazards for the typical Masco student may arise at any time, and one must be prepared for the twists and turns which accompany an average school day. One moment Mr. Soucy may be breathing down your back, whereas at the very next it is a forgotten homework assignment for which you must cleverly come up with an excuse. As the number of perils heads off towards positive infinity, the Masco student must be able to keep his cool; it requires, with out a doubt, a seasoned veteran to successfully navigate Masconomet's halls.

School survival reaches the world outside the walls of Masconomet as well. Last minute essays and the many products of well-practiced procrastination may often keep even the most conscientious students up into the wee hours of the morning. On the playing fields, Masco students find that they must deal with hostile agents from such schools as North Andover, Amesbury, and Lynnfield. It is no small feat to face the formidable foes with courage and skill.

This leads us to the very purpose of this yearbook. Because of the challenge which survival at Masco presents, the following pages will serve as both a tribute to those who have passed the education gauntlet of secondary school relatively unscathed and as a guide to those who have yet to complete their Masconomet experience.

PROGRESS



SENIORS

So, you've finally made it to the top. The king of the hill. Being a senior is everything you'd planned. Bonus number one: Open Campus. You've gotten your license at last, and it's time to cruise 95 in search of adventure, a good time, and most importantly, food. The House of Pizza is a popular hangout, as well as the world famous Chez Cumby's, where a good meal can be bought for just under two bucks (two candy bars and a soda). Your next senior advantage — study halls. They're everywhere! You can get away with dropping a language and catching a few extra winks in the morning by coming in late. Or maybe swing by for some Munchkins to share in homeroom. Study halls give seniors the freedom they've deserved for four years.

Another senior bonus — the age. You have been around Masco for four years. You've got the authority to stuff freshmen in lockers and give sophomores shampoos in the toilets. You know the way around the school like Pee Wee knows the way around his play-house. Domination is the name of the game as you hulk around the halls looking for underclassmen to harass. You know where Mr. Soucy is the same way you can spot speed traps on Route 114. Seniors are on top.

By the time you're a senior, you've gone through more than twenty teachers of high school. Everyone from Ms. Agganis to Mr. West knows your name, while they struggle with the new names and faces. By senior year, the teachers have transformed from whip-cracking, slave-driving beast masters into humorous, interesting friends. You realize that they were really out to help you all along. In fact, sometimes you'll make special trips to their rooms just to ask, "What's up?"

When your fourth high school year finally rolled around, you realized the advantage of being a senior. You discovered that you weren't as cool as you thought a few years before, but now you've climbed the mountain and planted the flag. You are king of the hill.

JUNIORS

Hey, you! Wake up, it's junior year, and there's lots of work ahead!

No one ever said that high school would get easier, so it is no surprise that as juniors begin their third year of Masconomet the stress factor comes in. They may have escaped the periodic tirades of Mr. Brown that are part of being a sophomore at Masconomet, but junior year has pit-falls all its own. Can you say "college"? "PSAT"? "SAT"? Indeed, Masco's juniors are faced with frightening previews of senior year; but junior year requires a survival technique all its own.

Having roamed Masco's halls for two years, juniors feel pretty comfortable about where they stand. Freshman year is safely a part of the past, and the luxuries of senior year are just around the bend. That third year of Masco is a period of transition, when students change gears from the relatively relaxed atmosphere of sophomore year to the intenseness which accompanies preparation for college. But isn't college still quite some time away? Think again, for it is junior year when a seemingly infinite number of college brochures flood into the homes of these Masco students. Indeed, junior year teaches one to use the old circular file with care.

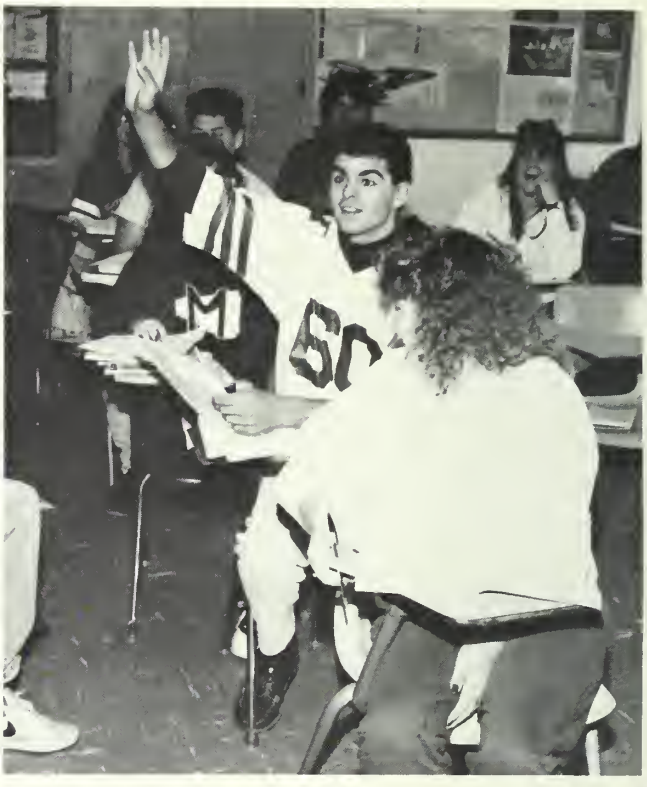
Besides the beginning of the college application process, junior year has many other little quirks. Juniors find that it is difficult remembering how many people Mr. Doliber is related to, and those studying biology are made aware of Dr. Kellogg's lack of drawing skills. And are you up on your current events? Mr. McClory is sure to find out. And you'd better answer quick, because Mr Van Pelt has got you on the spot . . .

Juniors are also out there expanding the literary horizons. Do those red letters have anything to do with Mr. Constantino's class? And what do they spell? Juniors always seem to find new and interesting ways to learn about the wonders of English.

There is a time to expand one's horizons, and at Masconomet there is no better time than junior year. It is the juniors who give body to many activities at Masco, and they are the ones who will soon be Masco's leaders rather than followers.

Although this year they are a small class, a lack of numbers does not seem to have impaired the Junior's survival skills. They can often be spotted cruising the halls (they don't run to class anymore), eyeing the under-underclassmen with disdain. The juniors manage to pass the year avoiding the traps which may have caught them during previous years at Masconomet.

As the end of the year approaches, the juniors can anticipate their senior year with excitement while the rest of the underclassmen have only more years of being underclassmen to look forward to. For the juniors, the end is not very far away.



SOPHOMORES

Sophomores . . . sexy? No, I don't think so. How about sadistic? Perhaps, but more like sagging, or salivating. Scatterbrained? Scrapbook-happy? Guess again — that's Mr. Brown. Hmmmm . . . struggling? Yeah! That's the ticket. Struggling. Hanging by a thread. A thread that is slowly unravelling with absolutely no way to stop it. Struggling sophomores . . .

Struggling Sophomores (n. pl.); strug.gling soph.mores; 1: that group of underclassmen which has experienced high school burn-out after only one year at Masco; 2: that group of underclassmen which has seen the rise and fall of — what? the Roman Empire? Is this scrapbook material? — the thrill of actually being in high school; 3: those who are sweating at the thought of another two years behind Masco's locked gates; 4: those who are forever searching for Mr. Brown's scrapbook words; 5: those who are striving to untie the Gordian Knot of survival at Masco (i.e., let's make a deal with Mrs. Toth for an A on the A Separate Peace paper, of else sue for peace . . .)

If you haven't guessed, Mr. Brown's scrapbook is the key to surviving sophomore year at Masco. According to one sophomore who has survived, "To pass his [Mr. Brown's] class with a good grade it is not necessary to open the book or slave nights on the scrapbook . . . all you need is 'Time' magazine."

The highlight of sophomore year, though, is definitely Mrs. Toth's analysis of A Separate Peace. If you are able to emulate Leper's loping technique, you may demonstrate it for the class. If that task proves to be too much, there's always more! Yes, you too many get to skip to the beat of iambic pentameter!

Project adventure provides all the necessary survival skill for life at Masco. Always carry at least two carabiners, one bungi cord, and one article of protective headgear when battling the oppressive current that flows through Masconomet's halls. Be prepared to do a little wunning, but don't sweat it; this may be your last year of phys. ed., if you can manage to try a couple of sports next year. Brand new swim and lacrosse teams have been made available to those sinking sophomores in search of sport, so successful survival may indeed be possible.

FRESHMEN

The freshman experience. It all begins weeks before Labor Day. "The high school is so big!" and "I am going to get lost!" are two familiar quotes that are heard from these lowly underclassmen. At 7:15 as they wait for the big, yellow limousine to arrive, each one is faced with the inevitable question: "Am I going to get stuffed into my locker?"

Soon they enter and realize that the high school is not quite as big as they once thought. Yet, still barely hitting five feet for the guys (while the girls tower over them at five foot three), they do realize that they must look up to the upperclassmen. For, knowing one's place as a freshman is essential to survival.

For the guy, to be successful as a freshman, he must come across as "cool" but not too arrogant so that a superior senior wants to stuff him in a locker or trash can. It is a fine line to walk, and it could mean whether or not he makes it through that first year.

Girls, however, seem to have it a little easier. They, to a point, are allowed to be the "fumbling freshmen". They experience the magic of freshman year: trying to sneak those frequent looks at all the gorgeous upperclass*men*. That is the key to the girls' survival.

Freshman year is one of the social survival — hardly academic. It takes the freshmen fools the years to realize that grades are actually important and that grades are what will get them into college, not how many people they successfully manage to impress. The girls realize that it is not important how many Esprit skirts they own and the guys how many goals they scored playing soccer in gym.

All this is part of the experience of surviving freshman year at Masco. Because, as a freshman, each thing is a new experience, and for most, each time they get involved in a school activity it is their first chance to come in close contact with the upperclassmen (unless, of course, they attend a school dance, in which case it will be all freshmen). Yet, as they continue to climb the Masco social ladder, they learn to watch their step, for as freshmen it may be a long way down.

However, towards the end of that first year, reality is forced back into the picture. As June draws near and the freshman glamour fades, the club scene comes to an end, for as they watch the seniors graduate, all freshmen contemplate three more years and what it will take to survive them. There is still a long road ahead.

The girls soccer team won the Division II State Championship title after losing the CAL title to North Andover this year. There were many high points to this season, including the conquest of Concord-Carlise, 2-1, tieing Beverly 2-2, and playing the way to the State Tourney. In the tournament the Masco girls defeated Saugus, Georgetown, and Belmont, for the Division II North title, without even being scored upon. Masco played seven overtimes and a shoot-out to beat Abington and qualify to play in the Division II Championship game against Lee - in sub-zero weather! Out on the WPI turf, Dawn Leary scored twice and Alex Kucera got yet another shut-out; Masco crushed Lee 2-0 for the state title.

Throughout the season, Dawn Leary, with 110 career goals, led the Masco attack with Marcy Maglio by her side. Erin Daly, Lauren Blaeser, and keeper Alex Kucera played stellar defense all season long to hold their opponents to a minimum of goals.

The season was a great success, and the girls team became a family, as did the Masco spectators. Good luck to next year's team and captains Kirsten Geisel and Molly Taber.

Unsung Hero: Pat Regan

All-Stars: Brian Lindquist, Kevin Winship, Scott Farmer

All-League: Doug Prouty

Captains: Scott Farmer, Brian Lindquist, Doug Prouty

Coach's Award: Jason Powers

The 1989 boys soccer team had another in a string of successful seasons for Masco soccer. With a league record of 14-1-1, and a regular season record of 15-2-3, we made it to the state tournament seeded fifth. After a bye in the first round, and a heart-stopping 2-1 victory over Bedford in five overtimes, our season ended short of our goal with a 1-0 loss to Marblehead. Highlights of the season were our second victory over North Andover to clinch the CAL championship, freshman Brad Trull's goal to beat Bedford, and the "bombfire".

With league leading scorer Doug Prouty, and keeper Stu Baur leading the league in net, the entire starting line was exceptional. Troy Anderson's broken wrist and Brian Lindquist's knee temporarily sabotaged the defense, but we pulled through and ended up with the best record of all CAL teams. Good luck to next year's team, let the tradition continue.

"If you THINK you are beaten, you are . . . " the season began by defeating the top two teams from last season, Amesbury (6-0) and Triton (3-0). The team then went on to tie Bishop Fenwick and win six consecutive games. There were many highlights to our season, including: Amy Jelly's first hat trick, the stolen balls, Deb's yellow card, the absence of Dan's mouth guard, Sue's goal against Manchester, and Amy Hanser's save against Bishop Fenwick.

The regular season ended on a positive note as we won the Division I title. But this was not the end, as we were later crowned Co-ed State Champions, in which Dan scored both our goals. Kate Ruggles was superb in goal and the defense was outstanding. " . . . sooner or later the person who wins is the person who THINKS he can."

Early last summer we assembled a team,
Our purpose was to fulfill a dream.
We wanted to gain a little respect,
And we did just that with our bumps, spikes, and sets.
Because of our attitude and our desire,
We quickly became a team to admire.
At the beginning of the season we were on a roll
And making the States seemed like a realistic goal.
After crushing Arlington, Mr. Faust was in awe;
Our game was near perfect with hardly a flaw.
As the season progressed we were still at the top,
And soon it was clear we were the ones to be stopped.
We hammered the Hornets with a score of two to one;
Not giving up was the reason we'd won.
We continued to show all season long
One reason we won was we all got along.
And when things seemed worst we played our best;
Our determination was what separated us from the rest.
Three games to go and we still had not lost,
Losing to us would come with a cost:
One more win and League Champions we'd be-
Tuesday's game versus Stoneham gave us that victory.
Hamilton-Wenham was just another game,
And there was only North Reading between us and our fame.
Although we lost the first set we didn't give up.
Going in to game two we began to erupt.
Our power was too much for North Reading to handle-
To the Chieftains, the Hornets couldn't hold a candle!
We went to the air and spiked home the aces,
As looks of fear covered our opponents' faces.
We went on to win two in a row
To give us a record of 16 and 0
Because Masconomet was undefeated,
In the State Tournament, #2 were we seeded.
We crushed Lawrence three to one
And proved to the crowd how good we'd become.
In the Semi-Finals we played our hearts out,
But Dracut played better and knocked us out.
Although it was disappointing to lose our last game,
We had given Masco Volleyball an honorable name.
Thanks to our coaches, our family and fans-
You were always there, on the bench and in the stands.
We were good, but to some we had to prove it;
Yet we knew all along that we could just DO IT!!!!

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Record: 9-0

Captains: Gretchen McCracken, Kristin Daly

Team Award: Kristin Daly

Coaches Award: Aimee Jefferson

All-Stars: Kristin Daly, Gretchen McCracken, and Beth Legacki

When Mr. Casey looked at his "Bunnies" last fall, one of his first remarks was, "This team is so good it could be scary." Little did he know just how good that they would be. Led by senior co-captains Gretchen McCracken and Kristin Daly, the girls dominated the Cape Ann League en route to an undefeated season and the CAL title.

They did not stop there, however. Due to the great strength of the team, the girls continued on and captured the Eastern Massachusetts Division II title. This was an unprecedented event in Masco Girls' Cross Country history. The "Bunnies" have been chasing this title for fifteen years, but this marked the first year that the girls were able to bring it home to Masco. They should be commended for all their hard word and effort, for they truly had a remarkable season.

Their success, they say, was due to the total team effort. As Kristin and Gretchen battled for the number one position, they were backed-up by a strong field of underclassmen runners. The depth of the team is definitely what enabled the girls to win. However, the girls were not just a team on the course, but off the course as well. They continued in the Bunnies long-standing "pasta parties" tradition, and as a result, became a very tight-knit group. It is safe to say that this closeness symbolizes the "Bunnies" as much as their chain of undefeated seasons.

As the only two members of the team leaving, Gretchen and Kristin extend their hopes for continued success to the rest of the team. Led next year by Beth Legacki and Carrie Stambaugh, the girls should have another very successful. Congratulations to Kristin Daly recipient of the Team Award and Aimee Jefferson, who was awarded the Coaches Award. Congratulations, too, to All-Stars Gretchen McCracken, Kristin Daly, and Beth Legacki.

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Record: 9-1

Captains: Joe Czarneski, Sam Shields

Team Award: Joe Czarneski

Coach's Award: Tom Froning

All-Stars: Dan Alperin, Doug Winship

This year's cross country team was one, if not the best cross country team Masco has ever had. The boys attained a 9-1 record this year, with only one loss which was to Hamilton-Wenham. Strong performances by Dan Alperin, Doug Winship and co-captain Joe Czarneski propelled the team to win the CAL Open League meet. Veteran Tom Froning and newly acquired runners Brian McGinley and Charlie Jackson contributed to the team throughout the season and will return next year in what may be their best season ever.

This years golf team . . .

The Masconomet golf team, a team rich in pride and spirit. The Masconomet golf team always seems to be unnoticed, or should I say, hidden in the shadow of the success of the soccer teams. This year was not a banner year such as in the past, as we have won three CAL Championships in six years. This year there was a tie for the championship between Hamilton-Wenham and Triton, and we finished a lone second. The team was young, with only three seniors: Karl Klemm, Rick Anthony and Rob Anderson. Everyone played hard and never gave up. Don Hover played tremendously, only losing one match. Rick Anthony and Karl Klemm were both elected to play in the CAL open, both placing in the top six . . . . Karl took first place. The Team Award went to Karl Klemm, and the Coaches Award went to Captain Rick Anthony and the young newcomer Don Hover. The year was a wild one, with more tied matches than any season in Masco history. Coach Ray Louzon hung tough end made the year a pleasure for everyone.

FOOTBALL

Record: 1-9

Team Award: Jeff Milks

Captains: Jeff Milks, Mike Gillert

Coaches Award: Mike Gillert

All-League: Jeff Milks

Despite their 1-9 record, the Masconomet football team finally got a lot of well-deserved respect this year. In what could have been called a "building season", the Chieftains truly portrayed what their T-shirts read - "Masco pride"!

Led by senior captains Jeff Milks and Mike Gillert, the Chieftains battled a number of strong Cape Ann teams. The league was extremely competitive this year, but nonetheless the team fought hard week after week. The Chieftains were rewarded, too, for their hard work and effort as they defeated North Reading 14-13 at North Reading.

First year coach Mr. Pugh did an excellent job with his team and was proud of their achievements and dedication. Congratulations to All-League player Jeff Milks and honorable mentions Mike Gillert and Lance Russell. Congratulations, too, to Jeff Milks who received the Team Award, and to Mike Gillert who won the Coaches Award.

CHEERLEADERS

This year's hockey squad was led by senior captains Sharon Holland and Pam Robarts along with second year coach Barbara Broughton. The key to this year's squad was to have a good time. They were a mix of experienced as well as inexperienced cheerleaders, all of whom were pleasantly surprised to have a winning team to cheer for! So, that's what they did; and they helped lead the Chieftains to a successful season!!

This year's basketball squad was a young squad which, like the hockey squad, had some experienced, as well as, inexperienced cheerleaders. They were full of pep and spirit and represented Masco well at each basketball game. Led by senior captain, Pam Sabino, they had a super season. It was not all fun and games, though; for, the squad worked very hard preparing for the winter cheering competition.

Captains: Brian Kennedy, Steve Belakonis, Ken Nazarian

Team Award: Ken Nazarian

The hockey team started off slowly with only one win in the first three games. However, hard work paid off as their record improved to 8-3-1. Sophomore sensations Brad Rapson, Todd Spain, and Brian Vedder, along with juniors Mike Monahan, John Capobianco, and Andy Diskes led the team point-wise. The stellar goal-tending of Joel Hilshey made the difference in many games. The defense was led by seniors Steve Belakonis, Keith Jones, Ken Nazarian, and sophomore Peter Dinardo. The team is expected to make the state tournament this year, which would be the first time since 1978.

VARSITY BOYS INDOOR TRACK

Record: 10-0

Captain: Pat Regan

Team Award: Patrick Regan

Coach's Award: Matt McCarey

The boys' indoor track team remained undefeated, 9-0, as it strode into the latter end of the season. Coach Carletti did a fantastic job in molding the most successful Masco track team in years. The team gathered strength in numbers while solidifying the promise for a bright future with a talented pool of underclassmen. The distance team ran deep in talent, yet, no matter the race, the name was Alperin. The phenomenal junior accidently shattered Masco's indoor mile record in his first meet and later went on to capture second place in the mile at the Northern Area Meet with a time of 4:36.

In the sprints, speedster, David "Miller Time" Miller, owned the 50, while hurdlers Brian Lindquist and Shawn Wallis were a powerful one-two punch. Kevin Winship and Kevin Franey participated in three events each, accumulating mountains of points and nearly taking on teams single-handedly. Shot-putter Lance Russel broke the elusive 40ft. barrier. Such efforts symbolized the determination of the team and the individual contribution of each and every member that made the season a memorable one.

VARSITY BOYS SKIING

Record: 6-8

Captain: Jay Coughlin

Team Award: Matt Gagnon

Coach's Award: Jason Janicke

All-Star: Matt Gagnon

The Boys' Ski Team started out strong this winter, defeating Methuen, Bishop Fenwick, and Haverhill. What was new for the team this year besides a winning record? Team spirit. The boys all worked together to win and to fight.

Senior Captain Jay Coughlin and Senior Erik Kalapinski were high point scorers. Seniors Chad Belinsky, Derek Chesley, and Doug MacEachern were also strong performers. The strength of the boys' team, however, lay in the underclassmen, or should I say sophomore class? Matt Gagnon and Josh Jamison competed for the top position on the team all season. Brett Sojda, Lane Murphy, Jason Janicke, and Joe Gallagher were equally competitive skiiers.

Though the season ended with a not-so-victorious record, the Boys' Ski Team under Coach Worth won (and lost) their races this year with a new team spirit and team effort. We hope that we will be able to maintain the high level of competition and support for many years ahead.

The girls ski team upheld our winning season tradition again this winter. Although luck seemed to have been against us at the start of the season with injuries, transfers, and illness, strong team spirit and a combined effort brought victory as the season progressed. Senior captains Alex Kucera and Kristin Daly, along with Nichole Gagnon, led the girls team in the top three positions. Seniors Cory Destribats and Nicole Pracht, and freshman Aubrey Spath, were close behind. As the season comes to an end, the team is psyched to kill Andover and go to States for a third season. Our new battle tactics this winter: spoon to win, spandex, and waxing skis at the Sixers Motel! The girls ski team looks forward to a league championship title next year, with a strong team led by new freshman Heather Maclean and veteran junior skiier Christy Destribats, and the one and only Coach Worth!

The Boys' Basketball Team entered the season with high morale and team spirit this winter, as Masco's first basketball team of the 90's. As they dodged, dribbled, and defended their way through the season, it was team spirit which kept the hope alive, even when victory was only a dream. Senior Captain Jeff Milks led his team to crush Hamilton Wenham, Ipswich, and Pentucket this year, with high point scorers Sophomore Lee Spencer, Junior Andy Forman, and Seniors Rick Anthony and Rich Miranda. The season ended with a sense of accomplishment and comraderie; the boys' team worked to produce their best effort. Next year's team looks equally strong (and perhaps even a match for Amesbury) with many underclassmen athletes returning.

The 1989-1990 girls' hoop team had one of its best seasons ever. One of the highlights of the year was beating powerful Division I opponent Bishop Fenwick in double overtime to win the Wakefield Christmas Tournament. Going into the final game of the regular season, the girls had a chance to defend their Cape Ann League Title against archrival North Andover. With eight seniors, five hard working underclassmen, and the leadership of Coach Murphy and Coach Canan, the team has high expectations for the Division II State Tournament.

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES

Radio Masco

Radio Masco is responsible for broadcasting homeroom and other announcements. The excitement and energy of the speakers, which is brought to all Masco students every morning in homeroom, helps make morning announcement time something that every student looks forward to. Headed by Mr. Walker, the small but elite group keeps the school informed throughout the day of groundbreaking school events (Mr. Soucy must be a member, huh?).

Photo Club

The Photography Club, headed by Mr. Martinez, is an after-school club created to better aspiring photographers. The club shoots photos, develops the negatives, and prints the actual photographs. Through the Photo Club, students gain darkroom experience and become experts with cameras. After each member finishes work on their chosen topic, Mr. Maritnez reviews the work and gives the students suggestions to further their learning.

CHESS TEAM

Led by Ken Felton, Masco's Chess Team is one of the school's less known activities. But it shouldn't be. The team members often get a strenuous work out over the chess board, and in the off-season they keep in shape by studying different chess strategies. Finger aerobic exercises keep the team quick, while the environment in the math resource center, where members can often be found working out, provides the necessary intellectual stimulation. The Chess Team is definitely one of Masco's more unique and challenging groups.

Thespians

"What?" you say. Yes, indeed, Masco has its own group of thespians (look it up in your Funk & Wagnalls). Students making up this elite club are involved with all aspects of Masconomet's stage productions. When they get their act together (pun intended), Troupe #2408 (no, this is not cubscouts) goes into Boston to see how real actors work.

Solstice is the literary magazine published annually at Masco. Headed by English teacher Mr. Donavel, Solstice is a combination of essays, stories, poems, and art work. The magazine accepts entries from all Masco students, and the staff is also made up of students. Though the staff of Solstice usually accepts only a few selected staff members, this year's staff seems uncommonly large- in fact, Mr. Donavel is probably quite surprised!

STAGE CREW

Stage crew is a hardy group of individuals who are the mechanical force behind all Masco's productions. While a fear of being caught on stage when the curtain opens often hides in the backs of stage crew members minds, they fight of this fear to operate lighting, build sets, and finally, get a show off the ground (and keep it moving). Always welcoming helping hands, the stage crew is a diverse group which reigns over Masco's stage.

The Masconomet senior class road race was . . . well, a success (we think). Though relatively little hard cash was brought in, and only one Masco student (thanks, Mr. Keene) ran in the race, the day was fun anyway. Russian Club

Are you in the Russian Club? Da! Russian is for everyone. The big word for the this year was Nyet. Russian adventures have included a food day and a Christmas caroling excursion to Twin Oaks.

German Club

Ahhh, German Club. President Kristin Daly led this year's Deutsch Klub through a countless number of fun-filled activities. Highlights included a trip to Europe, complete with a shopping trip in Geneva, skiing in Zurich and spelunking down the Matterhorn (just kidding).

S.A.B.

Few people are fully aware of the S.A.B., yet this group is very important to the students at Masco. The Student Advisory Board (S.A.B.) is a small group with representatives from each class, thus acting as the students' voice at school committee meetings. They play a vital role in letting faculty and school committee members know exactly "what is going on" at Masco.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council was led this year by President Jack Reagan. His advisors are Vice-President Danny Alperin, Secretaries Alex Kucera and Sue Darroach, and Treasurer Joe Marci. This year's council was observed by the psychological Mr. Meegan. This select group of individuals makes decisions that effect the whole school, i.e. what substance students will wrestle in during winter week, homecoming publicity, dances, fund raisers, etc. This group even experienced a trial of impeachment. Scott Farmer was brought to trial but the charges were dropped. Next year the Council will be led by President-Elect Tom Froning.

PEER ED.

Peer Education is that group of students which, while it made be hard to find, is willing to help you with problems that you wouldn't even tell your guidance counselor. In addition, they help organize AIDS and alcohol and drug awareness programs. This group of dedicated students also works with the Tri-Town Council to provide counseling for the student body.

N.H.S.

Where would Masconomet be without its National Honor Society? NHS is a group of students who sacrifice their minds and bodies in the name of community service, scholarship, leadership, and character. Under the direction of a new advisor, Ms. Tenanty, the NHS here at Masco applies their talents in such activities as blood drives, a phon-a-thon for the American Heart Association, and that difficult task of laminating I.D. photos!

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is led by President Kathy Horgan, V.P. Kristin Hudson, Secretary Liz Lima, and Treasurer Lisa McKenna. Activities this year have included watching a video of Gulliver's Travels in Spanish, making Quesadillas, which is a type of tortilla, and playing Spanish board games. During Christmas time, the club made cards for the elderly at the Twin Oaks nursing home in Danvers. Later, they traveled with the other language clubs to sing Christmas carols. Many Spanish club members participated in the field trip to see Don Quixote and afterwards ate at Las Prisas, a Mexican restaurant in Boston. Also, members have made efforts to keep track of last years Amity Aids, like Javier Arribas.

Yearbook

The year's motley crew of rag-tag artists, photographers, typographers and others managed to plod through deadline after deadline. Though basically unappreciated, the staff tried to remain friendly and open-minded. We're over stressed and tired, so if you don't like it (the book) - DON'T CALL US!

MODEL U.N.

While most of Masco's populace is basking in political unawareness, an elite group of students, led by Mr. Meegan, plunges into the depth of world politics and international affairs. Masco's Model United Nations teams, one which attends a Harvard conference and one which travels to New York for the national competition, have proven time and again their abilities in dealing with world problems. As Chief Delegate Jon Davison says, "It's cool."

Row 1: D. Fitzgerald, M. Murray, J. Trippett Row 2: I. Dunno, A. Webb, C. Corona

Alternative School

One of Masconomet's most successful programs is the Alternative School. The school is run by Mr. Pugh and operates slightly differently from a usual Masconomet school day. The Alternative School allows students to take only two to four classes, as opposed to five to seven. The other periods are spent in tutoring, on field trips or studying. This casual approach helps the students handle the workload that they have. This program continues to be one of the best at Masco, often teaching students to work to their potential.

SLAT

The Student Leaders Advisory Team or SLAT, is comprised of each class' elective board plus the officers of the Student Council and National Honor Society. The main function of this vital group is to plan the calendar for each school year, making decisions on school activities and functions. This very reliable group has the guidance of Mr. Meegan.

Latin Club

A gathering of students dedicated to the study of the Latin language and Italian culture, the members of the Latin Club aim to broaden their horizons through riveting experience with foreign culture. While orgies and toga parties do not usually spice up club meetings, what the Latin Club members do on their own time is anybody's guess.

SCIENCE TEAM

Science Team only sounds like a geeky thing to do; really, it is a group of well-meaning, semi-prepared science students who compete with the strangest people twenty-four other area schools have to offer. Braving that thin line between being knowledgeable and ignorance, Masco's Science-letes (sorry, Mr. Paarlberg) prove that good team chemistry is the key to success, often leading the league for point totals. It just goes to show, all that is gold doesn't always glitter, due to the dissolving effects of mercury . . .

D. Paley, A. Hanser, C. Gori, Brenda, R. Mayerick

F.P.S.

Future Problems Solvers is that group which everybody makes fun of but which nobody understands. The reigning State Champs in the fine art of future problem solving, the F.P.S. warriors focus their brain power on problems of the times under the direction of the forty-year-old Mr. R. P. Craig. Having resigned to the fact that F.P.S. is the only exciting part of their lives, the Masco F.P.S.ers aim to win the state title once again this year, continuing their winning tradition.

A/V Club

Audio/Visual is the bunch of kids you always see pushing carts carrying projectors around the school. Led by the dynamic Mr. Walker, A/V consists of Steve "Stretch Armstrong" Quinn, RJ "Rocko Ponch" Ferullo and Mike "Mikey" Sanger. These three dashing young students never fail to bring a VCR to classrooms in the time of need. The A/V squad also tapes sports events and watches lots of T.V.

Row 1: M. Sanger, A. Jefferson Row 2: RJ, S. Quinn, Hamster Row 3: G. Walker

Training Center

The Training Center offers an opportunity for developmentally delayed students to receive as education in a high school environment. This provides them with an opportunity to interact with other students as well as use Masco's facilities. The Training Center teaches the students skills which will eventually give them the chance to be independent and productive adults. Functional academics and pre-vocational training are the focus of the work in the classroom, and field trips are held to practice their new skills. The program is made much more valuable because many students volunteer to help out during their study halls.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, always one of Masco's more rousing groups, continued to expose students to the thrills of French culture. A large number of people joined, thus adding that special something to each meeting. One of the highlights for the club was the French dinner held in October. Other adventures included meeting the French exchange students and Christmas caroling. Oh yes, the French Club outdid themselves once again by having another action-packed year.

Rows 1-5: the participation has exploded because the guys think it's a great way to pick up babes.

Thomas Jefferson Forum

The Thomas Jefferson Forum is a hearty group of volunteers dedicated to community service. The Forum was involved in many different areas this year, including: visiting the elderly, helping out at Hunt hospital, a Big Brother/Big Sister program and many more fun and stimulating projects.

Yearbook, yearbook, yearbook . . . yearbook this has been quite a year, and this year's yearbook will be quite a yearbook - is quite a yearbook. It had better be. Late night and weekend meetings have ruined any social life that any of us might have had - though we didn't really have much of one to brag about anyway (sorry, Tory - the awful truth is out).

Seriously, though - we've had a lot of fun. It's always fun to try and do twenty thousand college applications, yearbook, sports, yearbook, club activities, yearbook, eating, yearbook, sleeping and yearbook. But you get the idea. It's also been fun watching our grades go down the toilet while we struggled to meet deadline after deadline after deadline. Ahh, yearbook.

Anyway, we have had fun, and we've worked really hard. Some of us have even managed to be a little social (Tory and Daryl wanted that included). It's not all bad - though at this time we're not really sure what's good . . .

But we're tired and a little crazy, so don't take this too seriously. We had a lot of fun - good luck next year, Daryl!

EVENTS

HOMECOMING

As it always has, Homecoming served as an opportunity for both sports teams and classes as a whole to show off the school and team spirit. The bonfire, while dampened by some explosive surprises, enabled sports teams to sound out the battle cry against their Homecoming opponents. At the dance which followed the Homecoming King and Queen were announced to be Chris Robinson and Gretchen Hover, and while the two danced the Student Council peddled baked goods at the door.

For the parade the next day, as well as for the cafeteria decorating contest which the freshmen won, everybody took a step back in time. The seniors donned togas as they brought the essence of Rome to Masco, while the juniors returned to the chivalrous Middle Ages. For the sophomores, it was from the pharaohs and mummies of Egypt that they drew their inspiration, and the freshmen traveled all the way back to the Stoneage, complete with dinosaur. While all classes showed great spirit, the seniors outdid all the competition, thus winning the spirit contest. To compliment the enthusiasm displayed by the parade participants, there were many fine athletic performances as several Masco sports teams played Homecoming games.

SENIOR HALLOWEEN PARTY

On October 31, the seniors got out their most creative garb and decked themselves out for the Senior Halloween party at Masco. A large majority of the senior class made an appearance, and even a dead guy in a coffin was wheeled in! As we danced the night away in our costumes, some rented, but most home creations, prizes were given out to the "best dressed". Prizes went to pair of pants, a bunch of grades, two grocery bags, and that guy in the coffin. Other smashing outfits included Snow White & co., a horse, several Superheroes, and even cowboys! We all had a great time playing the role of that character we always wanted to be; for some that character was a prostitute and her (his) pimp.

TWIX

CHRISTMAS CONCERT

This year's Christmas Concert was a huge success. Along with the art show, the concert was a wonderful display of the many talents of Masco students involved in the fine arts program. The event was led by Dr. Whitelegg, Miss Jarvie and Mr. Meinelt. The Christmas concert began with a percussion ensemble led by Sean Paley and Jenna Dinn, and following were such performances as the jazz band and the dixieland band, which included solos from Jason Lycette and junior Jeremy Stevenson. The vocal performances were excellent, provided by seniors Nat Woodward and Jenna Dinn. Thought there were a few minor glitches, the Christmas concert overall was a huge success.

THE CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Christmas Party was a smashing success this year, with an exceptional turn-out of the senior class. Color of the evening-black! Special guest appearances by Santa and Mrs. Claus promoted the Christmas spirit, while Frosty the Snowman passed out lumps of coal.

A real band - yes folks, a band- was an added feature to the night. The small dance floor provided for very cozy dancing, and the band I.B.S. (don't ask) blasted out some great songs, from the newest dance music to Christmas carols. Principal Stephen Smith demonstrated his exceptional boogying skills. More over Fred and Ginger, it's Mr. Smith and Andrea Lucy!

The gift exchange had its surprises, especially with its jockey briefs and escape hatch! The dance contest allowed us all to show our better sides, and the refreshments polished of an excellent evening.

PLAY

Once again Masconomet's drama department presented its annual fall production. This year the play was entitled "Laffing Room Only," a two-act play consisting of one stage set and ten cast members.

The play was set in Vermont in a failing, run-down hotel. The plot involves a mix-up of a stolen diamond necklace, undercover agents and thieves. Rather than concentrating on out-and-out comedy, this play focused its funny moments on characters.

"I thought the acting was superb," said one member of the audience.

Some unique performances included Nat Woodward as Putney, the handyman; Jason Frankel as Rondo, a thief; Emily Evans as Mrs. Martin, a rich snob; and Cynthia Sanger, as Irma, the "best bag lady in Vermont." Although these characters stood out, it was evident that the entire cast consisted of talented actors and actresses, such as Karen Smaha and Paul Schricker.

Although attendance was not huge, everyone felt that the play was a success.

"I think it went really well, in spite of a few very small communications errors," said Jennifer Kiley, a senior on the stage crew.

For half of this year's cast, however, this will be their last play because they will be graduating this spring.

The entire cast and crew did a wonderful job putting on "Laffing Room Only."

contributed by Tara Mahoney

"I loved it. It was much better than Cats. I'm going to see it again and again."

THE PROM

It took months of preparation. Where to find the perfect dress? How to coordinate the tuxes with cummerbunds and ties. Did somebody say flowers? And the most perplexing thought of all: who is going to be my DATE???

Well, after the apprehension came some troubling situations. Maybe you took your dress to be adjusted and the store sold it to someone else? Did the rain make the dye on your shoes disappear? Or perhaps the D.J. forgot to bring the theme song, "Wonderful Tonight"?

But, besides the mishaps, hundreds of juniors and seniors had an incredible evening at the Sheraton Tara. Leading the King's and Queen's court were Gretchen Hover and Chris Robinson. Others included Karen Kiley, Gretchen McCracken, Jason Powers, Heather Knapp, Brian Lindquist, Jack Regan, Scott Farmer, Pam Robarts, Pat Regan, and Kristi Vitale.

A highlight of the evening definitely occurred when seniors Bobby Parson and Jason Lucy reenacted their "Dirty Dancing" act from Frolics. Also, we managed to form the longest "Party Train" possible.

The prom was a special moment for everyone who attended, and for most it was only the beginning.

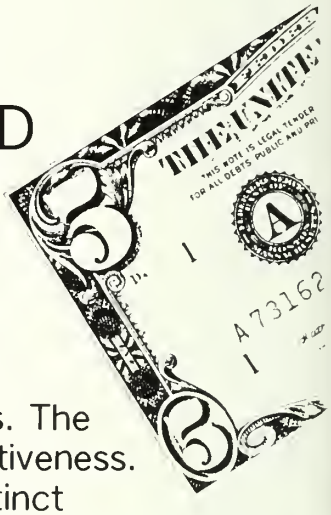
A LOT OF PAPER IS NEEDLESSLY WASTED TRYING TO FIND DECENT INSURANCE.



Unless you know how to figure the geometry of insurance triangles. The angles are your needs, product, and cost effectiveness. That's where creativity, knowledge and instinct play a role.

With 25 years of experience as the North Shore's leading insurance broker, Leslie S. Ray Insurance has plenty of that.

Combined with LSR's reputation for account service and comprehensive knowledge of the insurance markets, it means there's a way to figure the right angles.

Without wasting a lot of paper.

Envelope/Order Form Bind-Ins

High Quality, On Time Delivery AND Lower Costs!

Ask our growing list of 800+ Satisfied Customers.

Order Form/Envelopes that run right. The best proof is more than 800 satisfied customers stay with us because they trust us — and no complaints from the country's best and busiest binderies.

High quality, on-time delivery and lower costs. We run efficiently seven days a week with three shifts Monday through Friday (no charge for overtime). We're interested only in making your schedule and your bindery's schedule work.

B&W runs more than 3 million Order Form/Envelopes a day on six web presses. Give us reasonable notice and we can do your job — from 10,000 to 50 million — accurately and economically. Simple to complex formats, one to all process colors, flexibility to change copy easily. We can also schedule large runs in portions to allow market testing, seasonal or price changes - at your original contract price!

Can we do everything? No, we don't do die cutting, numbering or other costly gimmickry. But we are equipped and experienced to produce the majority of designs/formats that work, and do the job right at an affordable price. We also believe the customer is intelligent, hard-working and busy – and treat him accordingly.

DISCOUNTS ARE OUR BUSINESS

Ann & Hope

THE EXCITEMENT STORE

When in New England try not to miss a visit to the excitement stores Ann & Hope. Few people realize that the discount store concept as we know it today was pioneered 35 years ago by Ann & Hope in a mill building in Cumberland, R.I. Now there are 6 locations in the Boston, Providence and New Bedford markets. Come see and save at the most unique, full line discount stores you have ever shopped in. We promise you you won't be disappointed. You'll see why New Englanders call Ann & Hope ... the excitement store!
